MISSION

- To provide quality education through state-of-the-art infrastructure and competent teaching faculty
- To produce technically competent professionals with moral and ethical values.
- To participate in the development in accordance with societal demands through entrepreneurship, industry interaction and excellent communication.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

“The purpose of education is to make good human beings with skill and expertise... Enlightened human beings can be created by teachers.” APJ Abdul Kalam.

Education is a good wealth for any country. This famous aided technical education college, among the many other educational institutions run by the Arch diocese of Trichur, stands by the nation's need to make educated people as part of nation-building. Aiming at holistic growth in purely technical education, this polytechnic college is proud to see in this rise to the top. The management is committed to inculcating in the students innovative techniques and skills required for the growth of society.

PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Just the statements and lives of those who have successfully completed the engineering diploma course and have served in different areas of the world are enough to understand the importance of polytechnic education. The institution is very dedicated to casting the good technicians, and later they became good engineers. We are very proud and happy that since its establishment in 1956, the college has been to uphold such a tradition. The college provides good infrastructure and guidance by well qualified faculty on a beautiful campus. It has a history of high academic excellence as well as good performance in non-academic, sports, social, and voluntary activities. Its triumphant journey continues by making necessary changes from time to time. The institution has adapted the required changes with the new syllabus of Revision 2021 and set early and alternative approaches for the skill development that are set in line with the mission of the institution. Realising today's need, we are committed to ensuring that the institution will always stand at the forefront of enabling students to acquire the skills and knowledge in civil engineering, mechanical engineering, and electrical and electronics engineering available in this college, with a comprehensive emphasis on technical education.
